

THE SIDE

M. P.—Never suspect a person with a cause and even if you have a cause to suspect one of wrong doings is none of your business except you are directly concerned.

Palmer—I don't like gossipers for they are always more or less fuss makers. Remember the old adage, "A dog that will bring a bone will carry one."

Carr—You should not speak of beauty when you are not even a good looking person.

Wright—Your communication was too late for publication even had it been acceptable.

Allen—Your amiable disposition has won for you a host of friends. Don't let any one get too deeply in your confidence. Women as well as men are liable to changes.

Else—I would not advise you to give up your position except you see your condition will be bettered. I am not in favor of marriages against parental consent.

Quinn—You are too fickle minded; be more reserve and steadfast, and your friends will think more of you.

Rachel—The gushing girl is the one who can "catch" but cannot keep. It is silly to try to impress a person that you are smart. Education and refinement will assert themselves without effort.

It is in bad taste for a girl to say to a young man on receiving introduction that she is glad to meet him and it is equally absurd for her to say, on leaving him that she would be pleased to meet him again. Remember what I have so often told you. Men like to seek and not to be sought after. All anxiousness to meet again should be shown on the man's part.

Helia—You should keep your family affairs to yourself, as home troubles do not interest any one but gossipers.

Inquirer—All candidates for the editorial departments in the public schools must hereafter enter a competitive examination.

Nora—I cannot say that I favor secret marriages. Marrying is a very serious partnership and should not be hidden.

Lena—A refined lady shows by her acts that she has been well reared. I don't approve of any one blowing his own horn all the time.

A E—Dressing is very essential and it becomes any woman to be well dressed as it helps her manners.

A—Deception is stronger than traitors' arms. Watch the person who claims to have so much friendship for you.

Imez—A flowered, foulard silk with trimmings of white silk will make a prettier Easter costume. Pretty shirred chiffon or mousseline de soie can be bought for the yard from $1.50 to $3. Only a half yard of this material will make a beautiful front and will be cheaper and prettier than buying the silk and having it shirred. Have a lining of white tulle.

Louise—Girls of your age should be interested in books and not in boys. I have no time to answer inquirers of children.

Bessie—So much are worn on hats that the pretty ones are hard to find. Anything that is lumpy, fluffy and soft may be added to a hat. The idea of having too much on a hat, is out of the question, that is if you want to be fashionable.

Dear girls, remember the fact that what is fashionable is not always stylish.

Trains are again in vogue and overcoats are in the lead. Short figures should omit the latter.

Helia—Yes the ushers at the Lewis-Gerber wedding put in a grand appearance. It was a well managed affair.

K. B.—Dancing is not just the right thing for a Christian to do, especially when it is against the discipline of the church. I see no more harm in dancing than playing croquet. There are ministers who preach against the innocent amusement of dancing and denigrate in all kinds of games. I fail to see the consistency.

Oliver—Blue-gray will be the leading spring shade.

C. B.—Have your old red silk dress retiled in plain granedine. The figured paradises will grow old.

Martin—The meanest kind of a deceiver is one who will do a wrong with the intention of the blame resting on some one else.

Georgie—If you are satisfied with your marriage all others ought to be phased. Yes, the public schools are quite a home for all old maids.

Rachel—It is well to have a good and reliable associate. It is not always well to tell all you know.

R. T.—Never believe all that is told to you. People may tell you that they will do all in their power to help you, but alas, how often we are disappointed.

R. M.—Spring styles will be the most elaborate that we have witnessed for many years. Don't have your dresses too heavy.

Estelle—Be what you are, never pretend under any circumstances. Be honest if nothing more.
